

The People's Column

A survey of the opinions of local business men shows that Bryan citizens are facing the year 1927 with confidence, and admitting it may start rather slowly, they believe it will be a prosperous year over the period of twelve months. Three churches are going ahead with plans for new buildings, the Knights of Pythias lodge has purchased a lot and is making plans for a three-story building that will be a credit to Bryan, the Chamber of Commerce has increased its budget 100 per cent and is hard at work for the welfare of the community, and all organizations are putting their shoulders to the wheel, determined to make 1927 a big year. Come to Bryan where you hear something besides "hard times".

ABOUT BRYAN

The unusual thing was seen in Bryan today. The Frances Bros. of Tabor were here loading cars with hay, shipping to other points in Texas. For many years Bryan and Brazos county have had to buy shipped in feed stuff by the thousands of dollars worth. This is as it should be, when we have plenty and to spare.

The Real Hat Shoppe reports a splendid patronage these days. This store, which recently opened, is one of the most attractive to be found in this section of the State, and the owners show that they believe strictly in progressiveness.

Local sport fans will be interested to know that the Mustangs galloped past the leaping Frogs last night by the close score of 25 to 24. This victory gives S. M. U. second place in the conference standing.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church is planning a clever banquet for Tuesday night, February 22. Coach Johnny Bender and Attorney Oak McKenzie will be the principal speakers of the occasion.

Dr. F. D. Fuller, president of the Lions' Club, is in Sherman this week on business. He is expected to return by the first of next week.

Nat B. Allen, principal of Allen Academy, has been in Dallas for several days on business. He left here Sunday night for the North Texas Metropolis.

"When I Was 21"

C. J. JANCIC

"When I was 21 I was farming near Caldwell in Burleson county," said C. J. Jancic, owner of a grocery store in Bryan.

Mr. Jancic was born in Austin county, but moved to Burleson county with his parents when a mere youth. He conducted a restaurant in Caldwell. He then went to work for his brother in Caldwell, and was associated with him in business for eight years. His next venture was as part owner of the Caldwell Furniture Company. After two years in this business he engaged in the general merchandise business there.

In 1920 he sold out and moved to Bryan, and has been in the grocery business here since that date. Mr. Jancic said he moved here to enable his children to have the advantage of Bryan's splendid system of schools, and believes that Bryan is the best place on earth. He has a son, Edward, who is a student in A. and M. College at the present time.

When asked what kind of business he preferred, he unhesitatingly answered the furniture business. When he was in this line he sold musical instruments of all kinds, and music is his hobby. He can play a number of them, and in Caldwell he was director of orchestras and bands upon numerous occasions.

He is a member of the Woodmen of the World, C. S. P. S., and S. P. J. S. T., and Chamber of Commerce organizations.

Addresses By Warren And Humbert And Menu By Young Ladies of Group 6 Feature Methodist Men's Meeting

With a tempting menu served by the young ladies of Group 6 of the Methodist Missionary Society, and a surprise program that included addresses by Dr. E. P. Humbert of the A. and M. College and president of the Rotary Club, and I. E. Warren, superintendent of the local public utilities, the members of the Methodist Men's Brotherhood were royally entertained last night.

The Valentine motif was carried out by the young ladies, and the colored lighting effects added enchantment to the occasion. The elegant menu was one of the best of the season. After they had finished with tea meal, the girls sang several verses, including "What Makes Ransome Cole?" "Who Put the Cain in McCain?" "Who Made Waldrop Drop?" "What Kind of a Cobb Is Ty Cobb?" "What Makes the Men Eat So Much Food?" and "Why do the Men Encore?"

I. E. Warren, introduced by Dr. John W. Black, toastmaster, as a visiting clergyman, spoke at length on the importance of attending church and Sunday School services regularly and of the value of prayer. He said he wished for the days when the family would gather around in a group and offer up prayer for their blessings and for Divine guidance. His speech was very effective and well received. The address of Dr. E. P. Humbert on "Biology" was on a technical subject, but he delivered his

Five Texas Towns Get Buildings from Federal Allotment

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Mexico, Taylor, Sweetwater, Huntsville and Lubbock will be the places in Texas to receive new public buildings out of the first $100,000,000 public building fund voted by Congress, as shown by allotments announced by the Postoffice and Treasury Departments.

The total going to Texas of the first $100,000,000 fund is $7,174,000 gross. It is contemplated that the Government will receive $1,000,000 for the present postoffice and site in Dallas and $1,200,000 for the postoffice in Houston, which would make the net allotment to Texas $4,974,000. The total authorization by Congress is for a five-year program and no more than $5,000,000 may be allotted any one year to any one State.

The House of Representatives has authorized a second $100,000,000, but the Senate is yet to act. When this legislation is completed, making the total $200,000,000 for the country outside the District of Columbia, other allotments will be made.

Chicago Engineer Visits Here Today ORATORY AND MUSIC THRILL BRYAN LIONS

E. E. McQUILLEN SPEAKS AND MRS. THORNTON AND MISS NEELEY ENTERTAIN.

With an address by E. E. McQuillen, readings by Miss Maurine Neeley, and songs by Mrs. M. K. Thornton as the outstanding features, the Bryan Lions' Club held an enthusiastic meeting Tuesday. Several matters of business also were discussed.

The club voted to observe Allen Academy and ladies' night next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the Fin-Feather Club, when members of the Allen Academy band and the wives and lady friends of the members will be the honored guests. Jess Hensarling is in charge of the affair. Under the caption of "business," Captain George W. Griner, acting president called upon Ty Cobb to explain the Young Men's Business League movement. He stated that such an organization should be formed to work in conjunction with the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce for their welfare of this section. He mentioned the training such an organization would give its members, and cited definite needs the club could fulfill. His address was given prolonged applause.

E. E. McQuillen, the principal speaker of the day, got off to a flying start in his speech when he said that his address would be short enough to be attractive and long enough to cover the subject. Taking the A. and M. College student loan fund as his subject, he told of plans to increase the assets from $60,000 to $300,000, and predicted that A. and M. College would grow rapidly in the next 10 years. He cited several examples of boys who were making many sacrifices in order to attend A. and M. College and prophesied that "they will find the sailing much smoother after graduation than while they were students." This was his first appearance before the club, and his speech was accorded an enthusiastic reception.

Mrs. M. K. Thornton delighted the members by singing "Sweet Genevieve," and "Believe All Those Near Young Charming." Miss Maurine Neeley scored a hit by giving a reading on "It's Hats, Hats, Hats," and "Sleepy Hollow Tune." She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Roy Danforth, and the hats were furnished by the Real Hat Shoppe.

A discussion was held concerning financing the Allen Academy band trip to McAllen, led by Sam E. Eberstadt, Captain Griner, Jess Hensarling, E. A. Lightfoot and Robert Armstrong.

Captain Griner won the attendance prize and E. R. Bryant was toastmaster of the program.

The following were present: J. E. Henson, M. F. Vitopi, W. E. Neeley, Willard Chambers, R. V. Armstrong, Norman Dansby, R. E. Bosque, J. Coulter Smith, S. E. Eberstadt, J. Bryan Miller, Mrs. J. car in the Guaranty Fund law has been repealed. This law has never been a success, but the fault was in the law but the way in which the guaranty fund system is managed. If only banks in good condition and those of common credit had been admitted, it would have worked splendidly. One thing cannot be denied, and that is that under this law, the depositors were protected. If only banks who have withdrawn from the guaranty fund have been listed as bonded banks, which is really a frost and of practically no protection to the depositors.

We have simply gone regulation mad. We can't legislate people out of business. If the legislature would repeal a lot of laws that are on the books, it would be a blessing to the people. The progress of Texas. At the bottom of all real progress and improvement is the individual citizen. It is something impossible to bring about with hampering restrictions.

The Eagle is indebted to the one of Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas for a calendar, "A Reminder of Agglend." These calendars are attractive, and they give much valuable information on time and place of basketball and football games, R. V. activities and all other contests. The Aggie takes part. They will serve to "keep the home-fires burning" in every Aggie supporter's heart.

The people are to be congratulated on the present "patch work" reform bills before the legislature being laid on the table and their merits studied and then a comprehensive bill be introduced at the first called session. It is a hindrance rather than a help, so it behooves the lawmakers to know the needs before a law is passed.

Governor Moody is showing reversed judgment in his selection of agents for the various State Institutes of higher learning. As a rule he is appointing ex-students of these schools. They are the best equipped to be of the 2,000,000 service, as they understand at its complex problems. In the 100,000 that have been many regrets about it, did not know what it was all about, although their intentions are commendable.

The Highway Commission is still at a standstill. No State aid is advisable before August 1st, and all of the money on hand will be needed to fulfill present obligations. This makes it imperative that communities that want roads should get busy among themselves and not wait on the outside.

The Governor Pat Neff yesterday made an address in Omaha on prohibition. Now that he has a federal position at Washington, and prohibition looming as a lead-2 cent question in the next presidential campaign, Mr. Neff may be a possible candidate for the vice-presidential nomination.

Although its scholarship rating is higher, students of Harvard University show that they are very thorough like Texas college. Thirty-three of them have been put in the will for engaging in a free-for-all fight with the cops after a midnight pow. Scholarly training does not rob the exuberance of youth.

Governor Moody is as unrelenting on inefficiency as chief executive as he was while Attorney General. He has called down the time, Fish and Oyster Commission for paying $10.00 a year more the regular price for magdalenas.

The Methodist church is to be congratulated for going on record at Memphis as being opposed to segregation. To want to kill a teaching of some subject because we personally are opposed to it is the height of narrow-mindedness and an intolerance.

Billy Bowman, a minstrel star, died in Houston Saturday, but his show, "Lasses White," went on just the same. The other members of the company were grieved but they suppressed their feelings and gave the show as usual. This same condition is true in every phase of life. We must carry on just the same despite reverses and disappointments.

Calvin Coolidge showed about the best coolidge he has exhibited when he urged further disarmament in trying to settle the differences between China and England. Disarmament is the only sure way to promote peace. No nation is going to practice and prepare for something and then never do it.

The House of Representatives did a great service to the State when it approved yesterday the $300,000 emergency appropriation bill to provide for new buildings at A. and M. College. It is ridiculous for boys who are hungry for an education to have to live like sponges.

A girls' club has been organized at Wellborn. There are 12 boys and girls' clubs in Brazos county with an enrollment of 800. These clubs will do much toward making better citizens of the next generation, and Brazos county rightfully feels proud of them.

The Bryan-College interurban is of primary importance to Bryan, and must be maintained under all conditions. Without this line, Bryan and College would lose one of their chief ways of contact.

Our United States Senators have so much physical energy that a couple of them had a fight on the floor Saturday. This, at least, is an indication that they are on the job and are looking after their constituents' welfare.

Men who live in glass houses can't throw stones, so how are we to pass laws against over production of cotton, when the law makers are quality themselves of over production of laws?

Rainfall Saturday

Afternoon .06 Inch

Rain continued to drizzle throughout Saturday afternoon and late into the night, measuring .06 inch, according to the standard U. S. gauge maintained by the Eagle Printing Co. Sunday was fair and the sun is shining again today. Road conditions are reported in terrific condition in the county and all but impassable. You don't have to leave the city limits to find this same condition in the roads. Bryan needs more paving. The plan suggested by which the city would lay out a systematic paving program of a few blocks at a time, having the work done under the supervision of the city manager would fill a need for Bryan, that would finally relieve much of this "mud hole" hollering and be of small cost to city and property owners.

Indigestion

bad spells relieved

"NOTHING can take the place of Thedford's Black-Draught with us because we have never found anything so good so mild and so effective," says Mrs. Hugh Nichols, R. F. D. 4, Princeton, Ky. "When the children have spells of indigestion and upset stomachs, I always straighten them out with a dose or two of Black-Draught."

"Several times I have suffered with bad spells of indigestion myself and found I would soon get relief if I took a course of Black-Draught. I was troubled with a bad accumulation of gas and severe pains across my stomach and lower bowels. Now when I feel a spell of this kind coming on, I head it off by taking Black-Draught—a dose every night for a few nights will prevent the trouble and save me much pain and suffering."

"My whole family uses Black-Draught for biliousness and constipation."

"It is a splendid medicine." Sold everywhere. 25 cents.

Bryan Daughters of The American Revolution Vote To Provide For A Student Loan Fund At A. & M. College

At a recent meeting of the Bryan chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the home of Mrs. Will Howell it was decided to provide a student loan fund to aid some worthy boy to attend A. and M. College. The women were most enthusiastic over this plan and about sixty dollars was immediately subscribed to the fund by those present. This will be increased from time to time, the ambition of the chapter being to have several hundred dollars eventually to use in this way.

Helps Movements Those who are familiar with the work of the D. A. R. organization know that it is vitally interested in the big worthwhile movements in the country today, and that the organization contributes especially to scholarships and funds of all kinds for the education of the youth of America. The National Society Daughters of the American Revolution has built and is maintaining several schools of its own for the less fortunate young people of our country. The members of the Bryan chapter feel it a privilege to assume this special work, over and above all their regular obligations, to help some Texas boy to be educated at A. and M. College. The glamour and romance that distance lends to the needy at our very doors. Hundreds of the finest and brightest boys in Texas are working their way through A. and M. College, and are only too thankful for the opportunity to do so. When this fact was brought to the attention of this earnest, splendid group of women, it aroused their deepest interest and determination to help. Not only are there hundreds of boys doing all manner of work to help pay their expenses while in

Funeral Services Held Here This Afternoon For Mrs. W. C. Davis; Hundreds Of Friends Pay Tribute

(From Saturday's Daily) Funeral services for Mrs. W. C. Davis, wife of Judge W. C. Davis, 85th Judicial District, whose death occurred in a sanitarium in Marlin Thursday night, February 12th, 11:30 o'clock, was held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Davis home on corner 29th and Houston Street. Rev. R. E. Day, pastor of the First Baptist church conducted the services and the beautiful music was furnished by a quartette composed of Jimmie Page, Henry Locke, Miss Kathleen Hutton and Mrs. D. S. Buchanan with Mrs. J. H. Conway at the piano.

The deceased, Esther Boatwright Davis, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Boatwright and was born and reared in Bryan. At an early age of 14 she united with the Baptist church and lived a useful and consistent Christian life up to the day of her death. Graduating from Bryan high school in 1900, she then went to Baylor College, Belton, graduating from there in 1902 in literary, piano and voice. In 1904 she was married to Judge W. C. Davis and to this union were born three children: Leila Law, Pauline, and W. C. Davis Jr., who are left to mourn her death. Besides the husband and children, the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Her glorious voice—how gladly and freely she gave her high talents to the world.

In her life her major devotion was to her family and home. Never was truer or more faithful wife and mother and daughter. Today her friends, her family, are broken under the sorrow of her passing but how sweet will be her memory to all who knew her. Her lovely face, beautiful still in death smiles to us of God and the Savior and immortality. She will live again!

Talks To Parent-Teachers' Meeting

At a recent meeting of the West Side Parent Teachers' association Rev. Roy S. Hollomon made a splendid talk on the subject of Thrift.

Without disparaging or discouraging provident Thrift which provides for the "rainy day" and the infirmities of old age, Rev. Hollomon gave numerous vital illustrations of Thrift in giving to worthy causes, and in making liberal investments in human life.

Those who hoard wealth selfishly are not thrifty, but are merely stingy, says Rev. Hollomon. "Only those who invest wisely and give liberally acquire the real wealth of life, which consists of real friendship, the confidence of ones associates, and the knowledge of service to humanity cheerfully rendered."

All the way the scenery was beautiful for the fog lifted soon after we started so that we could see far down on the plain. In one place there was a vertical cloud hanging in a cross valley and suddenly it parted down the middle revealing the distant river and its flooded plain and the far away villages and rice fields. As I watched this view so suddenly brought before me I could not help thinking that it was like the rending of the Temple Veil that revealed to all the world a vision of religion far beyond the comprehension of those men who lived in Old Testament times.

When we got down on the plain it was still cloudy and the ride across was quite pleasant and so was Kiukiang, which is usually sickening hot this time of the year. We found that our boat which was due at five in the afternoon would not be along till midnight or later. I went walking in the native city with some friends and they were better hikers than I was, so that I got pretty tired before we started home, but there was nothing to do but be game and go on after I got started. We went out to look especially for pottery, for Kiukiang is noted for its pottery. I don't know how many we visited but it was a lot of fun looking at the things they had which ranged from immense water jars and funny china seats down to children's pea sets. There were some funny brown figures that looked exactly like they had been made from milk chocolate and there were many brilliantly colored animal figures that I can't imagine anybody wanting, but you never can tell about tastes. By this time we were awfully thirsty, and finally got up our courage to go into Dr. Wassel's and ask for water. It was not that we thought he would mind but we knew that so many people impose on him in passing through Kiukiang that we just hated to ask for even a drink. It was nice and cold for they can get ice there. We wandered after noting how many bottles we drank, how his boy ever got enough boiled.

Thursday was fairly quiet and I unpacked and pressed a few clothes and did some necessary shopping. By late afternoon we began to hear an occasional big gun and after dinner we went up on the roof to see if we could see the flashes but it was foggy and nothing could be seen. A little before three in the morning I was suddenly awakened by loud reports from the guns which were being fired without much intermission. For a long time I could not go back to sleep for when you are not used to this noise and when you know that friends and loved ones may be in great danger you can't help feeling nervous. Nearly all the Boone staff and the doctors and nurses at the hospital are in Wuchang. Mrs. Bliss was up most of the night but I got a little sleep between four and five thirty. I was taking my bath when the sirens began to wail and screech and I knew something must have happened but I felt I had better make the most of that bath for if anything very dreadful had happened I might not get another soon. When we got down stairs we found it was to call out the volunteers for fear that the many fleeing Chinese might try to rush the concessions. We walked all along the Bund and found British marines stationed in front of the Hongkong Shanghai Bank and behind sand bags in front of the gate leading into the native city. Our volunteers were in front of the American consulate. Small groups of British and American marines patrolled the streets and the armoured tanks paraded around. Out in the river are numerous gunboats ready for action. The big British one has three bombing planes and our smallest one is ready to go into action for she can get around corners quickly. The firing kept up steadily most of the morning and we heard at noon that cotton mills outside the city had been taken. They are right near beautiful new Saint Andrew's church, and I do hope nothing has happened to it.

Dr. Bliss phoned over to his wife this morning and said that beginning at five twenty-four shots

Judging from the interest that has been aroused throughout the county, terracing and drainage work have been among the most popular Extension Service activities, the demand for help in these activities now being more than is possible for one person to supply.

J. P. Gilpin of Kurten claims the honor of being the first farmer in Brazos county to have terracing done, some 14 years ago. From that small beginning the importance of the work spread, rather slowly on account of the suspicion as to its efficiency, till now more than 500 farms have been partially or entirely terraced and drained, representing an acreage of approximately 15,000 to 20,000 acres, with seemingly the entire farming population thoroughly aroused to the importance of terracing as a means of checking soil erosion, and laying the foundation for a more productive soil, the first essential in the success of any farming enterprise, and the only hope of permanent prosperity for any community or farming section. Agent C. L. Beason states that he has yet to find the first Brazos county farm that does not need either terracing or drainage or both.

The demand for terracing has become so great that the county agent states the only solution now is to train community groups or leaders, who can not only terrace their own farms, but lend assistance to others needing such help, the county agent being used largely in an advisory capacity. With five men in each community trained to use the farm level, more acres could be terraced in one week next fall than has been terraced during the past five years. With only 1,000 acres terraced each fall, it would require more than 300 years to get over the county. Why not help the county agent put the job over in one season?

increase, many farmers having suddenly doubled their breeding flock, according to Professor D. H. Reid, head of the poultry husbandry department, A. and M. College of Texas, in a recent talk on incubation and brooding of turkeys delivered over Station WTAW, the A. and M. College prices have greatly stimulated the raising of turkeys in Texas and farmers who have been content to raise from twenty to forty turkeys a year have suddenly increased their breeding flock from two hens and one tom to twenty hens and two toms, or are keeping larger flocks."

This situation has brought about many serious problems in incubation and brooding of the young turkeys. "The farmers' wife who had only the eggs from two turkeys to incubate could with out any serious trouble find in her more capable chicken than in her flock that would gladly act as foster mothers to incubate and brood her turkeys, but when she has the eggs from ten turkeys the incubation and brooding problems have changed entirely. Artificial incubation and brooding have become an absolute necessity.

It is reported that V. J. Borkie of Bryan owner of a poultry farm, won first place in the highest 10-hen pen egg laying contest recently conducted by the A. and M. College. Ten of his hens, in a period of 30 days, laid 176 eggs which were 10 more eggs than laid by any other pen in the contest. There were contestants from practically every state in the Union.

Great care should be taken to disinfect the incubator thoroughly before putting the turkey eggs in it, as small turkeys are very susceptible to disease, Prof. Reid said. Turkey eggs have to remain in the machine four weeks are so are likely to lose more moisture than do chicken eggs. In consequence care should be taken that the incubator is kept as moist or even a little more moist than is necessary to get the best results in hatching chicken eggs. The hygrometer should be run from fifty to sixty per cent, humidity when hatching turkey eggs.

After the turkey chicks are seventy-two hours old, they should be transferred to a clean, warm, well ventilated brooder, with one foot of floor space in the brooder for each young turkey. It is not advisable to put more than 125 young turkeys in the same brooder, Prof. Reid said. The young turkeys should be out of doors by the time they are one week old and on clean green grass or growing grain. "After the young turkeys are large enough to fly it is wise to let them out to range as far from the chickens as possible," he added. "Young chickens and young turkeys may be raised together but not on land where old turkeys or old chickens have been kept for any length of time. Keep the young turkeys in clean houses, on clean soil, feed them carefully, and you can raise them artificially even better than you can raise them by natural incubation and brooding."

The judges were highly complimentary of the contestants, for, in commenting on the papers submitted in the contest they unanimously voiced the opinion that in most cases the boys and girls had evidently worked hard on the essays and displayed an excellent understanding of the advantages, the economics and the principles of cooperative and orderly marketing of cotton.

The prizes totalling $100 which were offered by the Brazos County Farm Bureau Cotton Association, to be awarded by J. L. Stansy, president of the organization, to the winners at the Bryan Rotary Club luncheon, Wednesday noon, February 23rd. Boys' and Girls' Club Department

Club Notes and Farm News By County Agent C. L. Beason

In speaking of the 1927 Agricultural outlook, H. H. Shutz, statistician, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Houston, Texas, says: "Cotton production must be curtailed drastically the coming season to restore the balance between consumption and supply at remunerative prices to growers." You are right, Brother Shutz, in saying the acreage should be cut at least 30 per cent, and the farmer thinks so, too, but he is not the man who has the say.

Producing Cow.

It is reported that an Erath county club boy has a two year old Jersey cow, which he selected himself, that has produced 11,351 pounds of milk and 557.94 pounds of butter fat in 303 days. He has refused $100 for a bull calf dropped last February and $375.00 for his cow. It pays to be a live, wide-awake club member.

Good Investment.

Pansy Sousaures, to whom the Bryan Chamber of Commerce gave $5.00 as a prize for the best record book from the Smetana club has invested her prize money in a heifer calf. Pansy has not only shown good judgment in her investment, but buying a heifer calf for $5.00 shows she is also a good trader. Pansy now declares she is in the race to win the Jersey agent for the best club record in Brazos county this year.

Watch Smetana.

At the Smetana club meeting last week, 30 members were reported on roll and 30 were present. Can you beat that? You better keep your eye on that Smetana bunch this year. They say they are out for no "sparrows" but "bear" only. Certainly would be some change, to say the least of it, to see some Smetana club boy going to Chicago this fall.

Harvey

HARVEY, Feb. 17.—After a week of constant drizzle and fog, in which time the sun only showed itself for a few days last Tuesday, we gladly welcomed the bright Sabbath. Although as far as car ridings were concerned we were on the stay-at-home list on account of the long muddy hill in front of the Davidson home. We hope some day to see that hill leveled, it becomes almost impassable with every slow rain.

We were distressed and shocked Sunday to hear that the residence of Mrs. W. P. Jones had been destroyed by fire early Saturday morning. No one was at home but Mrs. Jones and Coy and as the neighbors knew nothing of it until too late to render assistance, it was almost a complete loss with the exception of some bedding and a few clothes and rugs. There was some insurance on the house. We did not learn how much, but none on the furniture or household goods. Mrs. Jones went to her son's home in Bryan, Raymond Jones. The excitement and distress of losing her home made her sick. She certainly has the sympathy of her many friends in Harvey.

Edgar Peters was on the sick list this week with the flu.

Offie Cobb, daughter of Charlie Cobb, a high school student of Harvey surprised the school and community by marrying Claude Taylor last week. Mr. Taylor was just recently discharged from the army.

Kurten

(Special to the Eagle).
KURTEN, Feb. 17.—Miss Mae Conrad and her brother Adolph of Houston are spending a few days with their mother, Mrs. Annet Conrad.

Mesdames A. Conrad, W. H. Buchanan and Chas. Schultz are on the sick list this week.

Tado Bedtke of Falls County is here visiting friends.

Freddie Herrling left for Corpus Christi the past week.

The highest average for the 5th month was as follows: Louise Seeman, 3rd grade; Robert Manthel, 4th grade; James Sabo, 5th grade; George Yeager, 6th grade and Elbert Kasiskie, 7th grade; low list, Herbert Hedtke, high first, Dorothy Plagens; low second, Odia Lang; high second, Ella Kehlinlerink. Kurten high school pupils are giving a play Friday night, February 18. Come and be with us.

Before ordering your next printing, let the Eagle figure with you. Quality and service is our motto.

TERRY COUNTY RAISES 25,000 BUSHELS CORN

County Agent C. L. Beason is in receipt of letter from W. B. English, formerly of the Steep Hollow community but now of Brownfield, Terry county, which reads in part as follows: "The county will gin 25,000 bales of cotton and it is estimated that it will market 500,000 bushels of corn. We still have lots of cotton in the fields, but many farmers have quit their cotton to market their corn. We have the best season to start a crop I have seen here. Had a nice rain last night, and today we are enjoying (?) a sand storm."

Mr. English encloses in his letter a picture which shows how the farmers are piling up near the great power shellers corn "mountain high". The shellers moving at a snail's pace in an endeavor to get to the huge piles of corn and other feed stuffs.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Thousands of letters have reached the Bureau of Internal Revenue relative to changes in tax legislation. Taxpayers desire to know the benefits to which they are entitled under the revenue act of 1926 by way of increased exemptions, lower rates, the credit of 25 per cent of the tax on earned net income, and the allowable deductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, contributions, etc. The purpose of the Bureau of Internal Revenue is to answer these questions in a series of newspaper statements, based on the revenue act of 1926 and the latest regulations relating to the income tax.

Income-tax returns are required of every single person whose net income for the taxable year 1926 was $1,500 or more; every married person, living with husband or wife, whose net income was $3,500 or more, and every person, single or married, whose gross income was $5,000 or more, regardless of net income.

If the combined net income of husband and wife was $3,500 or more, or their combined gross income was $5,000 or more, the income of each must be reported on a single joint return or on separate returns showing the income of each. If a wife does not file a separate return or join with her husband in a joint return, the husband is required to include in his return all income received by the wife in payment of wages or salary, or from the sale of products of her labor. In the returns of married persons must be included the income of dependent minor children.

Divorced and married persons separated by mutual consent are classed as single persons for the purpose of the income tax laws.

Gross income, as defined by Treasury regulations, "includes, in general, compensation for personal and professional services, profits from sales of and dealings in property, interest, rent dividends, and gains, profits, and income derived from any source whatever, unless exempt from tax by law."

Net income, upon which the tax is assessed, is gross income less certain specified deductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, taxes, contributions, etc.

The return for the calendar year 1926 must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer has his legal residence or principal place of business on or before March 15, 1927. The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return, or in four equal installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15, 1927.
